Ariel packs her backpack after her reading and tutoring session with Mr. Cornelius. With a big smile on her face, she announces enthusiastically, "I love to read!" "That's amazing," says her mother, "she always hated reading, I could never get her to pick up a book, and now she just loves to read on her own."

Ariel is just one student who loves to attend the reading and homework program at the FYI Community Resource Center. When her mother brought her to our first reading and homework session, her teacher had advised that Ariel was shy and reading below her grade level. Mom knew how critical it was for her third grader to improve her reading so she could catch up. Now Ariel's grades have greatly improved. "I can't wait to see this next report card," says Mom.

The goal of the FYI reading and homework initiatives, is to inspire a love of reading in children. Children who love to read normally do much better academically. It is a known fact that African American children attending Pinellas County Schools score well below their counterparts in Pinellas and other schools across the the State of Florida. The school board is currently working on this problem, but the help that children receive from programs like ours reinforce their learning.

"We Make Reading Fun!" It matters to us how our children are doing in school, and we want to help make them as successful as the next child, so they, too can grow up to become smart, successful, independent adults.

Great American Smokeout NOVEMBER 17, 2016

Every year, on the third Thursday of November, smokers across the nation take part in the American Cancer Society Great American Smokeout event. They may use the date to make a plan to quit, or they may plan in advance and quit smoking that day. The Great American Smokeout event challenges people to stop using tobacco and helps people learn about the many tools they can use to help them quit and stay quit. If you wish to quit smoking and would like assistance, please call Carey in the rental office.
